Excalibur Primary School

Term: Summer 2 Week: six

Reception Class Newsletter

This week, we welcomed Isabelle to our class. The children did a brilliant job of welcoming her and showing her around. We hope she will be very happy here.

Any children who missed their transition visit to Year One had a mini visit on Tuesday followed by a story from Miss Robinson.

In maths this week, we have used our pirate mini-me's as we hunted for items around the classroom that were taller than, shorter than or about the same size as ourselves and then our mini-me's. We then measured how tall our mini-me's were using cubes. We used cubes to measure other items around the room to find out how tall they were.

In our literacy work we thought about party food we like to eat and made shopping lists. We also wrote out pirate party invitations so look out for one in your child's reading bag.

This week there will be no homework and no new keyring words but please read your reading books over the weekend ready to hand in next week. We will be doing guided reading next week in school but we will not be sending the reading books home. We will collect ALL reading books in next TUESDAY (18th) July. Please, please hunt high and low and send all books back as we need to sort and check them over the summer and quite a few of our guided reading sets have books missing. Could we also ask that all keyrings are returned by then too if they have not already been handed in. Thank you!

Don't forget our pirate party on Wednesday. Please send reading bags and planners in as usual. Children will also need to bring a labelled carrier bag into school on Monday. We will then use this to send home their learning journey, books and folders later in the week.

Our mystery reader this week was Lucy's mum who read "Billy's Bucket" and "I wish I'd been a unicorn". Thank you so much for your time.
