Pre-school Weekly Newsletter

Term: Spring two Week: two

Our story of the week was 'Picnic Farm'. This book has helped us discuss some of things we get from our farms. The children have also enjoyed setting up and using our small world farm.

During the week, the children have enjoyed lots of free painting, name writing activities and practicing scissor control. In funky fingers, we have made spirals with pipe cleaners and squeezed and shaped the play dough. This week, we continued our 'Wiggle into Squiggle' activities (which support pre-writing skills). This week's movement was 'Jump, jump, jump!'. On Thursday, we celebrated World Book Day. The children looked amazing in their outfits and we loved sharing their stories.

Diary Dates

Friday 15th March - Red Nose Day - The children can dress in something red (along with their ordinary uniform). The children are also welcome to wear their Comic Relief Merchandise (if they have any). See separate letter on Parent Mail.

Tuesday 19th March - Glebe Farm Visit - Pre-school go on the coach to visit Glebe Farm.

Monday 25th March - Easter Headdress Parade - The children are invited, by the FOE, to enter an Easter headdress competition. Entrance to the competition is £1 and children need to make their Easter headdress at home. Children should bring in their decorated hat, bonnet or beanie on Monday 25th March. See separate leaflet on Parent Mail.

Number Time

This week, we have been learning about number six. The children used accurate 1:1 to count up to six objects. Some of the children were able to say how many more we needed to make six if we hadn't got enough. The children fitted up to six counters into the tens frame. We then looked and counted the spaces left to make ten. Our number rhyme of the week was 'Sing a Song of Six Pence'. We also heard the story of 'Six Dinner Sid'.

Last weekend, Rainbow Rabbit went to stay with Felicity. He had a marvellous time and loved visiting the library to choose some new books. Rainbow Rabbit also had a tea party and played some games. Thank you for looking after Rainbow Rabbit, Felicity and family!

Have a great weekend!
