

Heston's Craziest Recipes

<https://www.restaurantchoice.co.uk/blog/hestons-craziest-recipes>

Vocabulary Check

- edible cutlery
- using Liquid Nitrogen
- Heston's rule-breaking and unconventional antics have made him
- One of the least-appetising sounding recipes
- It is crammed with herbs and spices
- as unappealing as this recipe sounds
- in a bid to surprise
- the most controversial dish on his menu

Quick Start

1. What is Heston's occupation?
2. What channel does 'Fantastical Food' air on?
3. Name one of Heston's unusual recipes.
4. Heston created a ten foot _____.
5. Who interviewed him on ITV's This Morning?

What do the recipe names suggest about
Heston's cooking?

Individual Thinking

Regardless of what side of the food genius or food criminal fence you're on, you can't help but take note of his unusual dishes.

Find the phrase which means you might think Heston's ideas are great or terrible.

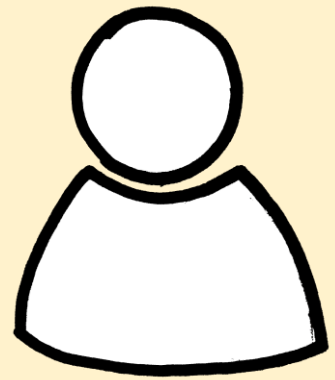

Why does the reporter describe the combination of egg and bacon ice cream as a recipe for disaster?

Individual Thinking

What does the comparison between Heston's food ideas and Willy Wonka's Chocolate Factory tell us about Heston's style?

Solo Work

Would you try Heston's creations? Give reasons for your answer.

Can you think of your own crazy food creation where something isn't what it seems?