The Year 4 class at Excalibur Primary School participated in an engaging tennis session today, aimed at introducing them to the sport's fundamentals and promoting hand-eye coordination. Coached by experienced mentors from Alsager Tennis Club, the children eagerly embraced racket handling, serving, and stroke techniques. With laughter and cheers, the young athletes showcased their skills in friendly matches. This successful session marks an important step in encouraging physical activity and nurturing the students' holistic development.

Year 4 pupils Jack and James commented on how the session was: "Fun, quick and energetic, the coaching was clear and informative and it was also inclusive for the less confident children."

Alsager Tennis Club coach, Christian, said, "Year 4 did really well and they learnt lots of new skills. Hopefully, they will continue tennis and come down to Alsager Tennis Club."

The other year groups are due to take part later in the week.
